Santa Claus Arrives In Antioch Saturday

The arrival of Santa Claus in Antioch Saturday, November 26, will usher in the Christmas season.

Santa's helicopter will land in the village parking lot at 10 a.m. Saturday, November 26, with the help and cooperation of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce. After landing, he will go to the Rescue Squad building where children will have a chance to talk with him and receive some pre-Christmas goodies.

Some lucky children will get a free helicopter ride after Santa lands. Names of the children will be drawn from the boxes which have been in stores this past week. The helicopter rides are being co-sponsored by Antioch Motors, Lyons-Ryan Ford Sales, Earl Stringer Dodge Motors and John Teresi Chevy-Olds.

A galaxy decorated Christmas tree has been placed in the vacant lot west of the Savings and Loan building on Lake St. Christmas lights and new Christmas decorations have been put up throughout the shopping area and industrial sections of the village.

Yolanda Gets Odd Donations

Yolanda Maria Holtz, the little Antioch girl who collects trading stamps to help the nuns, received a rather unusual donation recently, and an offer of an even more unusual one.

Yolanda received an original script of a motion picture, "Two for the Road," autographed by Darryl Zanuck. She had written to the motion picture producer asking for a donation of stamps to add to her collection.

Zanuck suggested that she dispose of the autographed script at a sale for the benefit of her present project. Yolanda is now collecting (continued on page 3)

ACHS Board Hears Reports

The Antioch Community High School Board of Education heard a report from Dave Cain, school accountant, on the 1965-66 audit. The audit was done by Pollard & Wheeler, Certified Public Accountants of Rockford.

The board approved claims under the National Defense Education Act of $8,222.34. The school will be reimbursed for about 23% of the money spent, amounting to about $1,891.

The board approved installation of a power steering system on the 1963 GMC school bus. Cost was estimated at about $200.

The board approved an expenditure of $177.75 for new door checks on four fire doors in the 1962 addition. The door checks will be installed to remedy trouble the school has had with the doors.

A report on the 1966 summer Music Camp was made by Joe Rush, chairman of the Fine Arts Department. Eighty-five students attended Music Camp last year. A decision on whether to approve the Camp for next summer will be given at next month's board meeting.

Adrian Mueller reported to the board on the progress of the "Diversified" Occupation program. Industry and business in the Antioch area have been receptive to the program, Mueller reported.

Under the DO program, students attend high school half of the day, and spend the other half working in a local business, learning a trade. Superintendent A. L. Dittman said he was pleased (continued on page 3)

The First National Bank of Antioch will hold Open House for the public in their new home at 934 Main St. next Wednesday, November 30.

The bank will be open to the public from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. Wednesday. All the bank officers and most of the directors will be present to greet visitors, and conducted tours of the new quarters will be given. Visitors will have a chance to sign up for a drawing for hundreds of dollars worth of prizes. A drawing will be held at the close of the Open House to determine the winners of a color TV set, a gas outdoor barbecue, a stereo record player, radios, clocks and electric blankets.

Several thousand balloons, some of them carrying slips entitling the finder to a prize will be released at the start of the Open House Wednesday. Some will carry the inscription "Lucky Balloon," and inside them will be the slip which tells the finder what prize he can collect. "The balloons may travel hundreds of miles—we don't know," Dale Starkey said. "The finder has only to bring the slip in to the bank to collect his prize."

The new officers of the First National Bank will be present to meet the public Wednesday. They are LaVerne Woods, executive vice president; Walter Daniels, vice president; and Dale Starkey, cashier.

Salem Central Faculty Attend Conference

Faculty members from Salem Central High School attended a conference at East Troy High School on November 9, sponsored by the State Board of Vocational, Technical and Adult Education. Special areas of interest for each group were discussed.

Attending from Salem Central, High were Mrs. Donna Cowan and Mrs. Mary Polley, home economics; Miss Mary Jefferson, student cadet from Madison; and Mr. St. John, agriculture instructor from Salem Central.

There was also a meeting of administrators which Vernon Horne, principal of Salem Central, attended.

Car Leaves Road; Driver Hospitalized

Russell E. Schroeder of Rt. 2, Antioch, was hospitalized but reported in good condition after his car ran off the road and hit a tree last Wednesday night.

Schroeder's car ran off Route 173 west of Deep Lake Road, down a steep bank and hit a tree sideways, according to sheriff's deputies. The accident happened about 9 p.m.

Reject School Tax Hike

Voters of the Grass Lake School district defeated a proposal to raise the educational tax rate Saturday.

The referendum, which called for a 21c raise in the rate, was defeated by a 197 to 100 vote, with two spoiled ballots. The school board canvassed the vote Monday night.

Superintendent John Schockmel said the vote represented a good average turnout for the district, and that he had no comment on the vote at the present time.

This is the second time Grass Lake School voters have rejected the proposal to raise the educational tax rate. The first referendum was presented to the voters last May.

Superintendent Schockmel had previously estimated that the educational tax fund would be about $35,000 "in the red" by July 1, 1967. It will probably be necessary to issue anticipation warrants, he said.

The school district now has an educational tax rate of 83c per $100 assessed valuation. The raise would have added about $15,000 to the school's income.

Only 26 Mailing Days Left To Xmas

Postmaster Joseph Wolf reminded Antioch residents today that there are only 26 mailing days before Christmas.

"While that may seem like a long time to most people, it is frighteningly short to those of us in the Postal Service," he said. "Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien has predicted that well over eight billion pieces of mail must be delivered between now and Christmas Eve, a new record."

"We are asking everyone to start thinking about their Christmas shopping and mailing now. If all the holiday mail were to hit the postal system at one time, it is obvious that we'd have difficulty delivering every piece on time."

The Antioch post office expects to handle 450,000 pieces of mail during the holiday rush, the Postmaster said.

Mailing early and spreading the mail flow out along the entire pre-Christmas season is the key to better mail service at this time of the year.

Last year the public co-operation was "tremendous," according to Mr. Wolf. Virtually every piece of holiday mail was delivered before Christmas Day. This year with increased volume because of the continuing strength of the economy we are hoping to see that fine cooperative spirit again.

Postmaster Wolf offered these mailing tips:

Use ZIP Codes on all mail. "If there are some ZIP codes that you still need for your mailing list come to the Post Office and look them up in our ZIP Code directory or (continued on page 3)

Restoring Sequoit Creek

There was a time, as many Antioch residents remember, when Sequoit Creek was a lively, free-running stream. In the winter, you could skate all the way from Antioch's Main St. to Little Silver Lake.

You'll soon be able to do it again—when the stream freezes, of course. The village board, with Vern Barnstable heading the committee, has been working patiently for two years to clean debris out of the creek and restore it as much as possible to its former condition.

The latest work to be done on the creek has been a donation of John Horak, owner of HOD Disposal. He has dug out the stretch of creek from Quaker Industries north to Anita St. From there, the creek flows to Pittman Motors, and Horak will soon have that stretch cleared.

The job of clearing the creek has been a slow one, partly because it runs over property belonging to several different persons. Where bottlenecks were clogging the stream on private property, Barnstable had to secure the owner's cooperation before work could continue. The creek carries overflow from as far south as Loon Lake. Clearing of the stream bed is expected to improve drainage, particularly in the industrial area.

Open Antioch Office For Xmas Recordings

A local office for making a recording to send to your particular serviceman for Christmas has been established.

The recordings are a service of the Lake County Region of the American Red Cross. The local office is jointly sponsored by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Quaker Industries, Inc.

The recordings will be made at the Chamber of Commerce office at 908 Main St., above Harold's Restaurant, Jane Wagner, executive secretary of the Chamber, will handle the recordings.

The recordings are free. Local residents make a recording of their personal holiday message to servicemen far away from home, their own thoughts, with their own words, in their own voices.

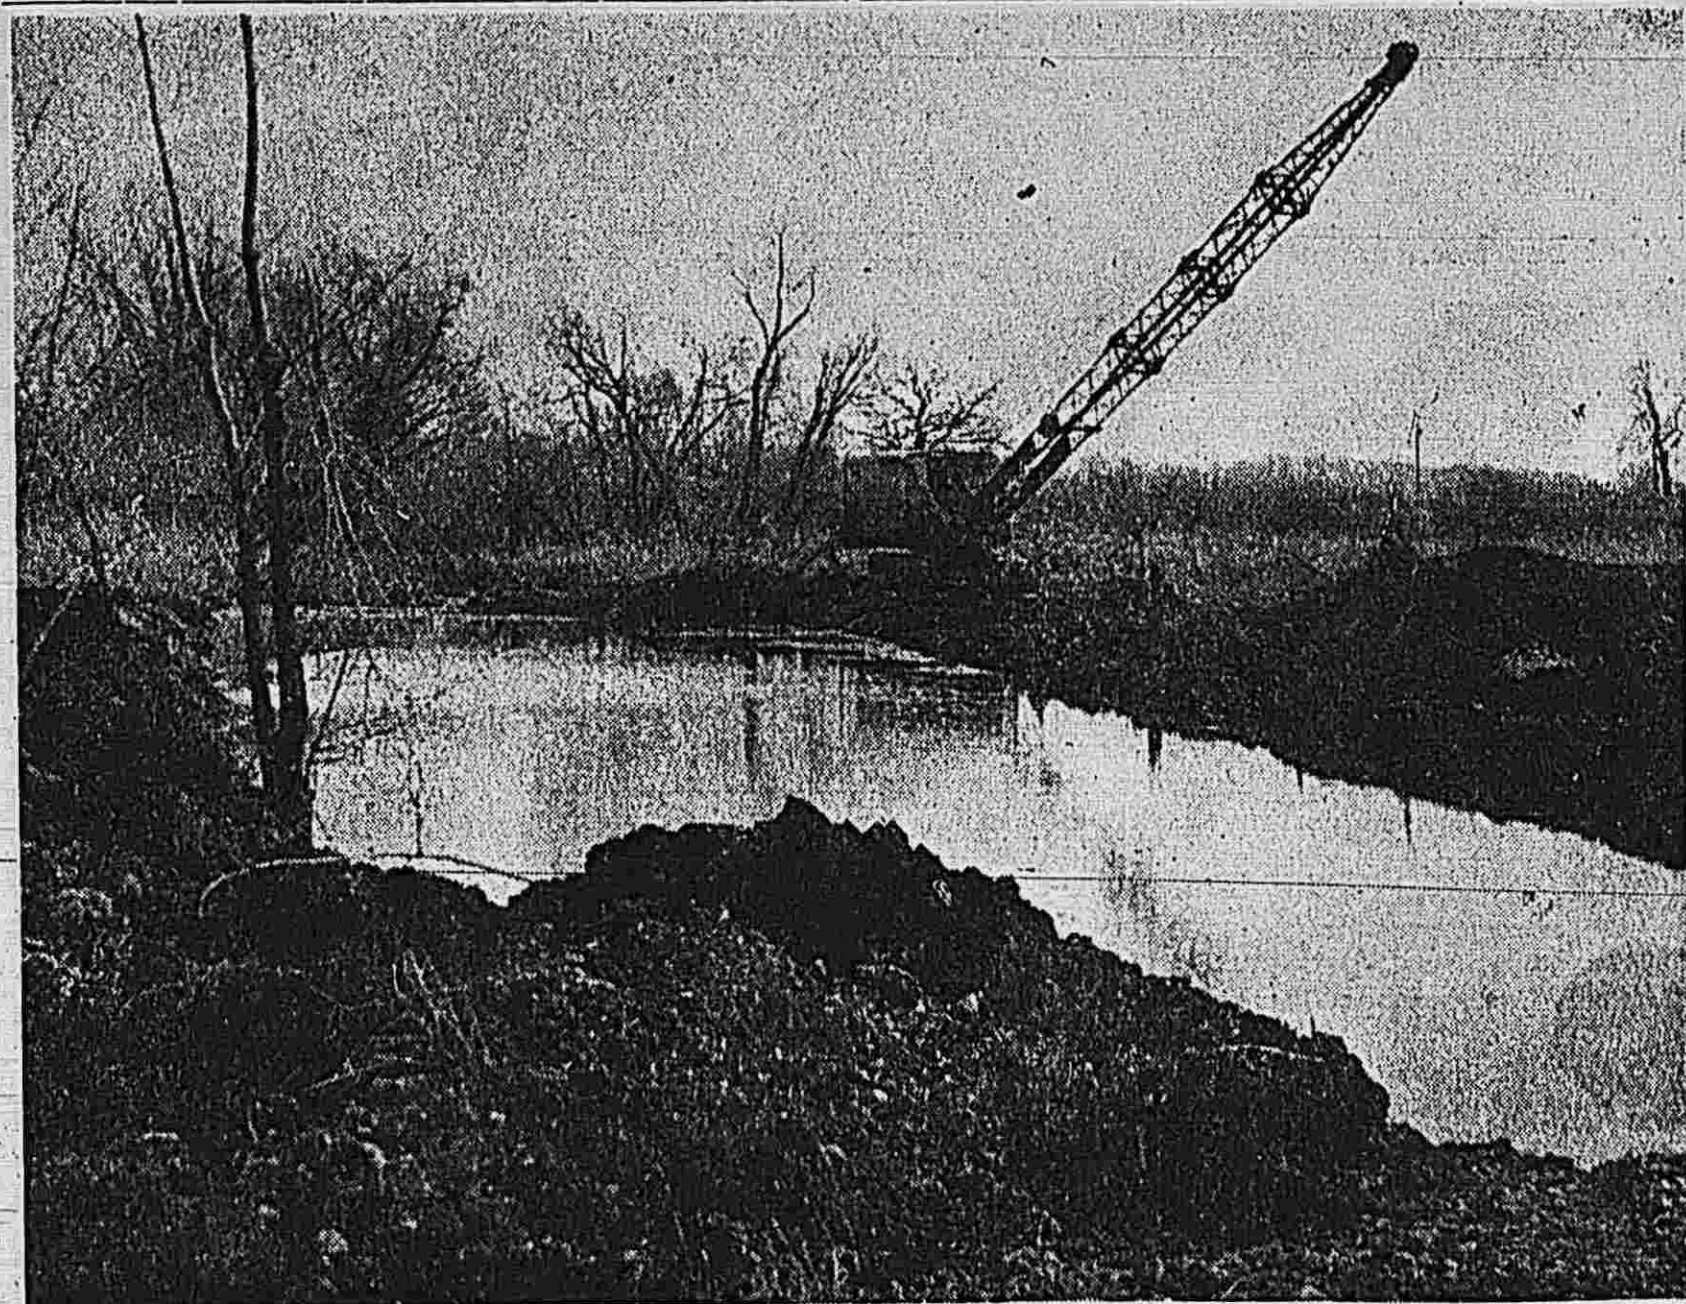

The Chamber of Commerce office will be open daily except Sundays for the recordings from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. from Monday, Nov. 28 to Dec. 10.

Persons who wish to make

"Voices from Home" recordings should call the Chamber of Commerce office, 395-3381, for an appointment.

It's advisable to plan ahead what greeting you intend for your special serviceman. Better yet, write it out. Messages should be no more than 3 to 5 minutes long.

The local "Voices from Home" arrangements were made by Grant Spong, vice president in charge of Industrial & Public Relations at Quaker Industries, and Josef Hunley, Regional Field Representative of the Red Cross.

The job of cleaning out Sequoit Creek is almost completed. This recently-completed portion of the creek is just east of Anita St.

The Family Holiday

It's Thanksgiving Day again, but a Thanksgiving much different than those first ones in our country.

The Pilgrims would be amazed by today's Thanksgiving. As dazed as today's American housewives would be if they had to prepare a Thanksgiving dinner in the way the Pilgrim women did.

The Pilgrim women had to work on Thanksgiving dinner for many days before it was served. The turkeys had to be plucked and cleaned before getting them ready to roast. Bread had to be baked, fillings for pies cooked from scratch. The little extras, such as olives and celery, would have been non-existent in a Pilgrim colony.

Today's housewife finds her most exhausting chore in supermarket shopping to be sure she has everything for the big dinner. The turkey is ready to go in the oven, perhaps even stuffed. What would today's bride do if faced with a just-shot turkey, complete with feathers and innards, that she must prepare?

Pie-keepers, pie-fillings (providing she bakes her own pies), candies even canned sweet potatoes, make preparing a holiday dinner a breeze. No need to rise early to get a wood fire going—a flick of the switch and dinner's cooking.

Today's housewife has competition, though, for her beautifully cooked and served meal. Probably the masculine members of the family will eat Thanksgiving dinner with one eye on the TV screen, where a football game is in progress. The Pilgrim men could concentrate wholeheartedly on their holiday dinner—there was nothing to distract them from their enjoyment of the plentiful and tasty food.

Today's housewife needn't work quite so hard to put a delicious dinner on the table. So even the housewife-cook has something to be thankful for on Thanksgiving day.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

The Lake County Board of Supervisors are still trying to figure what approach it should take to rectify the problems created by the voters when they imposed a rather strict tax rate ceiling on the county's general fund.

The supervisors are also trying to figure why the voters imposed the rate limits below what is now being levied and have almost convinced themselves the electorate "just didn't understand what they were voting for."

This analysis is probably correct, but the blame must be accepted by the supervisors themselves since they did a "pretty poor job of trying to educate the taxpayers."

The supervisors sought to discredit the Association of Collective Taxpayers and the signers of the petitions which put the tax rate proposals on the ballot, but did little or nothing in a positive way to sell the people on the importance of providing adequate leeway in the tax rates.

There has been some talk about contesting the referendum in the courts and there has been a suggestion that perhaps the legislature can provide some relief through new laws.

This may come to pass, but it is probably safe to assume that such action will not be taken until after the township election next spring.

No candidate for re-election to the county board would want to go to the people of his township and tell them they didn't know what they were doing when they voted for a tax ceiling so "we are going to ignore your expressed wishes and use the courts or legislature to get what we think you should have."

It might be interesting to have the supervisors put a tax rate proposition on the ballot in the township election and then campaign for office on the basis of the tax rate proposal.

Those members of the board who are not campaigning for reelection could hit the campaign trail in support of the referendum.

Then if the voters still chose a lower rate the supervisors might be convinced there was something wrong with their conduct of the county's business, at least in the eyes of the voters.

In his post-election comments Senator-Elect Charles Percy indicated he was going to keep close tabs on Republican Party activities despite his Washington residence and one wonders if this scrutiny will extend to the make-up of the GOP leadership in the Illinois House of Representatives.

If Sen. Percy decides to exert pressure on the State Representatives who will be picking the Speaker of the House and other Assembly officials it would scarcely enhance the chances of W. J. Murphy, of Antioch, gaining the Speaker's chair.

Murphy can expect strong opposition from the Chicago Sun-Times and the Chicago Daily News in any bid for party leadership, but he has managed to thwart them in the past and probably could again if Cook County Board President Richard Ogilvie and Percy stay on the sidelines in the House-hassle.

State Sen. Robert Coulson is again on the leadership team in the State Senate and there is every expectation he will use this forum to project himself into the state picture two years from now. There has been frequent mention of Sen. Coulson as a candidate for Lieutenant Governor, but this would seem to be a political dead end if he has any real political ambitions.

One would think he would be thinking more in terms of replacing Sen. Everett M. Dirksen in Washington since the shaggy-haired solon must

Once again PM&L is producing a children's play for the benefit of the younger theatre-goers of the area. These children's plays have always been viewed with great enthusiasm by the youngsters, and it might be added that Mom and Dad usually enjoy them too.

Rumpelstiltskin, adapted for dramatization by Charlotte Chorprenning from the tales of the Brothers Grimm, is the choice for this holiday season by director Valerie Hunley. It will be presented on December 10, 11, 17, and 18 at matinee performances at 2:00 p.m. and for one evening performance on December 10 at 7:30 p.m.

The cast of Rumpelstiltskin includes both old and new faces to children's theatre. Jay Horton plays the leading role of the greedy little dwarf who makes the miller's daughter promise to sacrifice many precious things in return for his weaving straw into gold for her. Jay appeared in Fibbertygibbet last year and his performance was excellent.

Josef Hunley plays the miller and Shirley Jensen is the miller's wife. They are so proud of their daughter, played by Heather Hunley, that they promise the king that she can weave straw into gold.

The remainder of the cast include the following: the King, Homer LaPlant; the King's son, Steve Krotz; the King's daughter, Marie, Jansen; Gothol, Gary Strahan; Ingert, Marty Luski; 1st lady-in-waiting, Mary Luolof; 2nd lady-in-waiting, Carol Brandy; Nurse, Roberta Liberty; and Mother Hulda, Geri Duncan.

Production crews are headed by the following: Stage manager, Sue Bushnell; set construction and construction, Ken Nelson and Ken Smouse; Lighting, Dr. Al Ramsey; Sound and special effects, Truman Garrett, Cosumes, Betty Beveroth, Publicity, Betty Smouse.

Ticket reservations may be made by calling 395-3613.

Sharon was 16 at the time. Now she's planning her wedding.

Also my Sisters and Rev. Henderson to be my very special friends, and all those wonderful people who help me in my little projects. How can I thank you, Oh my Lord, for these Thy treasures? It is true I am ill much of the years of my life but for that too I am thankful because of this I have been able to help the Sisters I love so very much. ACHS Teachers Plan Quiet Holidays

Family gatherings are the order of the day for Thanksgiving, and Antioch High School teachers are no exception. Many of them will be going home for Thanksgiving, many of them will be hosting their families here. A few, mainly coaches, will spend part of their Thanksgiving holiday in school-connected activities.

We asked the teachers where they'd be for Thanksgiving, and here are some of the plans:

Mrs. Charles (Carol) Maplethorpe—"A family dinner for Thanksgiving day at our home and work on the Yearbook Friday."

Roger Andrews (basketball coach) "Stay at home—rest—eat turkey. Attend Woodstock Invitational Basketball Tournament."

C. Lindholm—"Stay home and entertain relatives from Iowa."

Dick Olsen—"Joyce and I and the children will travel to Brookfield, Wis., just outside of Milwaukee, to be with my mother, Mrs. Grace Olsen, on the festive occasion. I have two married sisters in Milwaukee who will come with their husbands and add 8 more children to the occasion."

a fan shaped bouquet of pink roses and white carnations; the bridesmaids carried similar bouquets of pink roses.

Philip Langhof of Channel Lake was best man. David Heath, brother of the bride, and Randee Sodman were ushers.

A reception was held at the Wilmot American Legion Hall. After a honeymoon trip to Virginia, the young couple will live in Norfolk, where the groom is stationed.

The bride attended Antioch Community High School.

Holiday Motif For Garden Club Meeting

Following the successful meeting of October, "Holiday Designs," the November meeting of the Antioch Garden Club will also have a holiday motif.

The meeting will be held at the Antioch Savings & Loan community room, starting at 12:30 p.m. Monday, Nov. 28. Mrs. Russell W. Christensen will present "Holiday Table Settings." Guests are welcome at a nominal fee.

The program promises to be full of imaginative and original ideas for Christmas holiday arrangements. Hostesses are the Mesdames E. Christopherson, R. Boller, Howard Wells and A. Mingarelli. Dessert and coffee will be served. For reservations call Mrs. Christopherson at 395-1530.

Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. John W. Horan, Jr., Rehabilitation chairman of the Antioch Unit, stated that the Antioch Legion Auxiliary has already contributed to this project.

Starting on November 30, and continuing on December 1 and 2, these Christmas gift shops are set up with traditional decorations and atmosphere. Antioch Unit, as part of the 10th District American Legion Auxiliary, supports Downey Hospital at Great Lakes. Volunteer are asked to work from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Bldg. 4. Elegant Wool Costume Wins First In State

The elegant brown wool costume Mrs. Daniel (Angela) Maras is wearing in the picture accompanying this article won first place in the state for her in the adult division of the "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest.

The finals of the sewing and designing contest were held at the Sherman Hotel in Chicago. The statewide contest is sponsored primarily by the Illinois Farm Bureau, cooperating with the wool industries group. Mrs. Maras received a $50 gift certificate for first place.

Winner of first place in the senior division, for girls ages 17 to 21, was Juanita Fitzer, 18, of Joliet. She will go on to represent Illinois in the national contest finals at Las Vegas.

Mrs. Maras is a 4-H leader, and coaches the girls in her 4-H group on sewing and designing clothes. First step in the statewide contest was the District competition at Rockford on October 22. There Mrs. Maras won a chance to compete at the state level.

Judy Hevdejs won for the perkier outfit in wool in the junior division, and Carol Cermak won for the dressiest coat in wool.

Mrs. Maras' prize-winning outfit is a two-piece brown wool ensemble with a matching hat. The sheath dress is fully lined, with belt and button detail at the hipline. The double-breasted cardigan coat with set-in sleeves is fully lined with pheasant satin fabric.

A detachable collar creates a cowl effect on the coat. When the coat is removed, the cowl collar appears to be attached to the dress. Actually, it is attached to neither.

The hat was also designed and made by Mrs. Maras. It is of brown felt, with a band of pheasant feathers to match the coat lining. Mrs. Maras searched for the pheasant feathers for a long time. "I'd like to take credit for shooting the bird myself," Mrs. Maras said jokingly. "but I can't. I finally found some to match the coat lining."

The search for the pheasant feathers was only part of the long preparation that goes into making and designing a really elegant outfit. The pheasant lining, which adds a rich and unique touch to the outfit, was bought three years ago. From then on, Mrs. Maras was continually on the look-out for a fabric which would be just right to blend with it.

"A really good outfit isn't made in just one week," Angie said. "First you plan. Then you shop. It usually takes at least two months to get everything together, in just the shade and material you want. Then you design the pattern. Then it takes at least a month to make the outfit."

Mrs. Maras carried the scrap of pheasant satin on shopping trips for three years. The day she saw exactly the right wool for her outfit she didn't have the sample with her, but by then she knew it so well there was no doubt in her mind that this was it.

The shoes she wore with the outfit had been bought two years ago. The purse she purchased five minutes before the show.

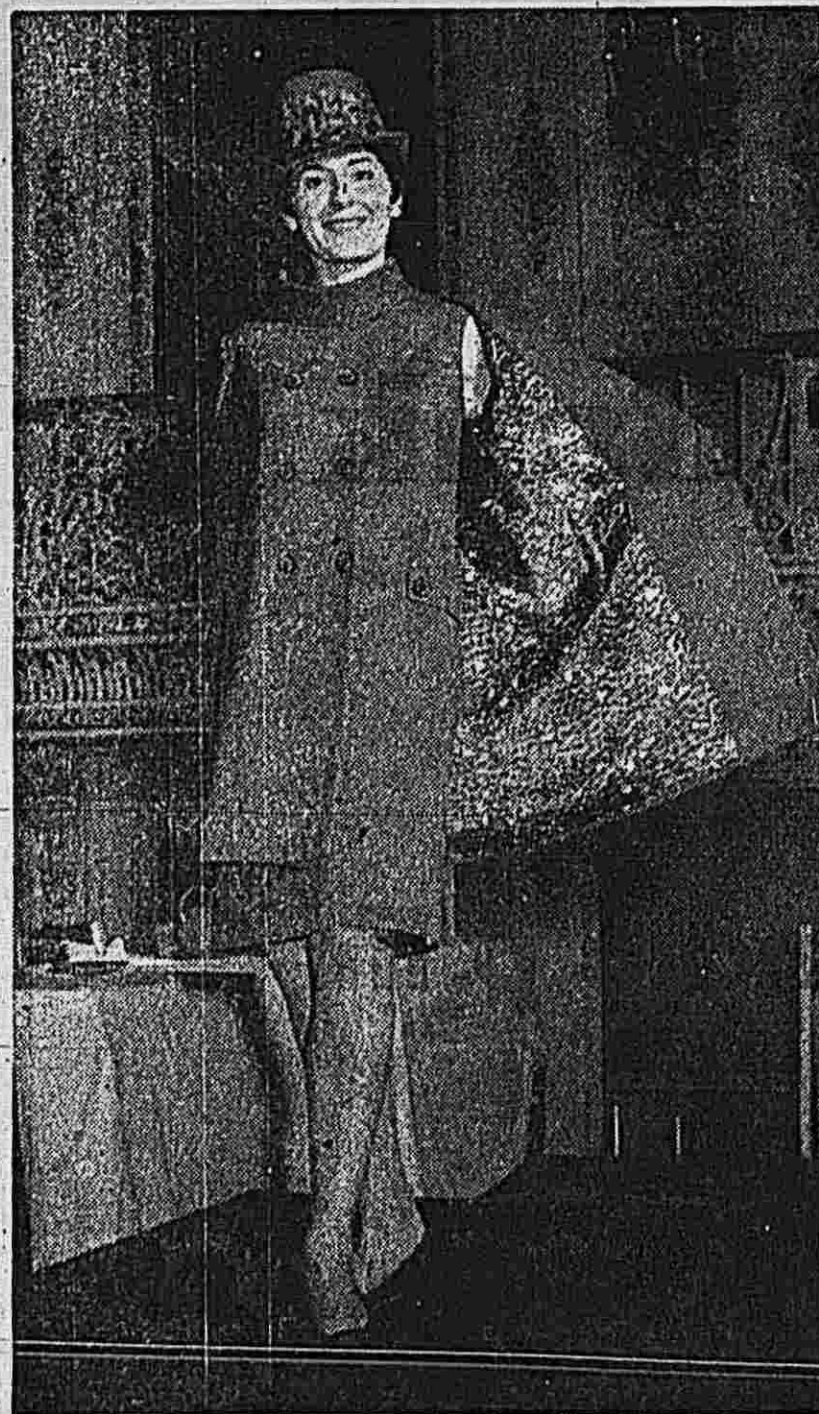

The brown wool worked up so beautifully that Angie went back and purchased additional material for a short jacket, with a suede front, a skirt and slacks. "Now I have a complete basic brown outfit," she said.

Angie will be showing both outfits at clothing shows she is giving in cooperation with Mrs. James McMillen to stimulate interest in sewing, especially in wool. The shows are called "Angie from A to Z."

Antioch High School girls will get a chance to see the show at 7 p.m. at the High School Monday, Nov. 28. Angie didn't just "pick up" her sewing and designing skill. She's a graduate of Madame Marie Baerle's French Dressmaking & Designing school and recently has taken lessons from Mrs. Robert Worth of Gurnee, connected with the Home makers' unit.

Angie has experience as a professional model. She's 5'9" tall, wears a size 12 or 14, and has good looks and sparkling personality to display her creations effectively. She was interviewed on the WKRS Luncheon Club after her win in Chicago, and modeled the outfit at the Girl's Workshop last Saturday, a show for 4-H girls.

Mrs. Maras, in addition to being a 4-H leader (her group is the Antioch Adventurers), is American Home chairman of the Antioch Woman's Club, a member of the Lake Region Homemakers unit and a member of the Antioch Mental Health Auxiliary.

Mrs. Dan Maras took first in the state with this ensemble which she designed and made herself.

Thanksgivings Of Other Years, Other Countries

Did you know that Thanksgiving didn't become a national wide observance until 1864? It's a fact and this is just one of the many surprising facts about our traditional holiday.

The first Thanksgiving was held in December of 1621, when Governor William Bradford of the Plymouth Colony appointed a day of celebration and sent four men out to shoot wild turkeys and other fowl.

The Pilgrims had come ashore from the Mayflower on Dec. 21, 1920. The winter that followed had been heart-breaking; half of the entire band had perished of disease, hunger and exposure. But the following March, two Algonquin speaking Indians, Samoset from the Pemaquid tribe and Squanto from the Wampanoag tribe, befriended the remaining group, gave them Indian corn seed — telling them to plant "when the oak leaves are as big as mouse-ears," and to catch fish to fertilize the soil.

It was a warm and bright summer, and the crops grew and thrived. When autumn arrived, the three log warehouses were filled with provisions—the harvest of 20 acres of corn, and 6 acres of wheat, rye, barley and peas.

Governor Bradford thought it fitting to celebrate and give thanks for their good fortune and a formal invitation was issued to Massachusetts grand sachem of the Pokanoket Indians to join them in a feast of Thanksgiving. Aassasoit arrived with 90 of his followers and stayed for three days of feasting!

Thanksgiving days following harvests later came to be celebrated throughout the New England Colonies but on different and varying days. George Washington proclaimed November 26, 1789, as the first national Thanksgiving Day in honor of the new constitution; but the custom continued to vary widely among the states—kept alive only by the proclamations of local governors.

It was a woman, Sarah Josepha Hale, however, who first suggested that Thanksgiving should be a national patriotic holiday. She was the editor of the popular woman's magazine called "Godey's Lady's Book," and for almost 20 years she campaigned through editorials and letters to the President, state governors and other influential persons.

Finally, Sarah Hale was able to win the support of President Abraham Lincoln. In the third year of the Civil War, he believed that the Union have been saved; he therefore proclaimed a national day of thanksgiving to be celebrated on Thursday, November 26—naming the last Thursday in November as the day to be observed each year.

Today the occasion is still a time of giving thanks with reverent prayer, flower decorations and a turkey feast. But while it is wild and domestic turkey that is traditional in the United States for Thanksgiving, in Japan a similar holiday of thanks is celebrated each year on November 23rd with visits to shrines and candy and pots of hot ceremonial tea.

The colorful-clad natives on the island of Sardinia, on the other hand, meet at the end of the harvest season in August to offer their thanks in the Festival of the Savior. At sundown a solemn procession of people proceed to Church for prayer and to thanks. Within a few days after the festival, the hunting season starts!

In Bavaria at the thanksgiving festivals, which take place each year at the end of the harvest season, natives dress in traditional attire and perform folk dances which go back to the 13th and 14th centuries.

It doesn't matter if you choose to celebrate Thanksgiving in the typical American fashion with domestic and wild turkey, or with colorful folk dances, or with hot ceremonial tea—just as long as the spirit remains, making the holiday one of the year's most eagerly awaited and universally enjoyed.

Assistants' meeting held at Dr. Edward Abderholden's office last Wednesday evening.

The three guest speakers from National Accounts in Waukegan were May Russell, Red Garrison and Roy Jacobs. They told how they handle the accounts. They gave each lady present a lovely mum corsage. That was why the ladies were asked to notify Mrs. Hubert Bechtol, president, if they would attend. They wanted to have a corsage for each lady.

Reports were given by the ladies who attended the 10th Annual National Convention of the American Association of Medical Assistants in St. Louis, Mo., in October. Local ladies were Mrs. Bechtol, Mrs. Steve Krumm and Mrs. Wayne Carpenter. Mrs. Bechtol was one of the official hostesses at the inaugural banquet when Mrs. Elvira Fischer of Chicago was installed as president of the AAMA.

ADULT EDUCATION SURVEY

Antioch Community High School, in an attempt to serve the needs of the community, would like the community to indicate their interests to the school. To facilitate this, we have formulated a checklist of current and proposed courses, along with space to indicate an unlisted choice. These choices should be classes the individual would attend if they were offered. We would also appreciate an indication of how many would like to receive regular high school credit towards a diploma from any of these courses, which would necessitate 2 sessions per week for 15 weeks.

Sequoits Win First Game Of Season

Antioch's Sequoits outscored the McHenry Warriors in the first game of the season, a non-conference game at Antioch High School last Saturday night. The final score was Antioch 76, McHenry 63.

The Sequoits lacked hustle and drive throughout the first quarter, but improved as the game progressed. The game was close throughout the first half, with the score 32-30 at half time, the Sequoits leading.

In the early minutes of the second half, the team scored 8 straight points to open up a 40-30 lead and the Sequoits were never in trouble again.

Tyrone Walls opened the second half with an 18 foot jump shot. Bruce Empfield sunk a free throw. Jerry Whitson hit a fast break lay-up, followed by another fast break lay-up by Bill Sheldon. Bruce scored again from the free throw line, and the team pulled away from the Warriors from then on.

Late in the third quarter, McHenry changed their defense from man-to-man full court to a half-court zone press, which enabled the Sequoits' big men, especially Empfield, to score in close.

The Sequoits handled the press quite well for this early in the year.

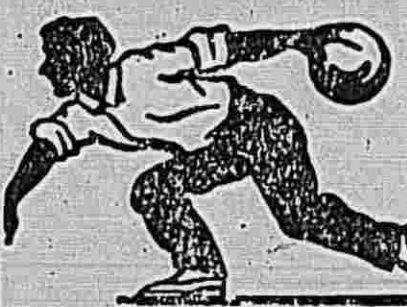

With a sizeable lead and six minutes to go in the game, Coach Roger Andrews took advantage of the opportunity to play the bench. The entire squad saw some play-

Double Feature For Marksmen

The McHenry Sportsmen's Club released their December Shooting schedule today. Included in their calendar of events are two prizes shoots, an ever popular Jack Rabbit Shoot, and four Saturday practice sessions. A business meeting and election of officers is set for Monday, December 12, at 8 p.m.

Closing out this month's list will be a repeat TURKEY and-a-CHICKEN Shoot, on Sunday, November 27, starting at 11 a.m.

In this competition both the winner and the loser carry home meat. The gunner with the high score garners the turkey, while the low scoring nimbler gets the chicken. There is no increase in the shooting fee.

At their previous Turkey-and-a-Chicken Shoot the shot-gunners showed up early, stayed late and carried home every morsel of meat; then attacked the remaining prizes and cleaned house. A hefty stock of replacements will be on hand for the shooters, as well as hot refreshments and shells in the warm clubhouse, where watchers may view the proceedings through the two big picture windows in comfort.

The December Shooting schedule:

Saturday, Dec. 3—Practice Shooting and Jack Rabbit Shoot, 1 p.m.

Saturday, Dec. 10—Practice Shooting—1 to 4 p.m.

Sunday, Dec. 11—Meat Shoot—11 a.m.

Saturday, Dec. 17—Practice Shooting, 1 to 4 p.m.

Saturday, Dec. 24—Closed.

Sunday, Dec. 25—Closed.

Monday, Dec. 26—Meat Shoot—11 a.m.

Saturday, Dec. 13—Practice Shooting 1 to 4 p.m.

The McHenry Sportsmen's Club is on the west side of Pistakee Bay and can be reached from the east via Route 13 Big Hollow Road to its western terminus, then a right turn for one-half mile.

From the west the route is through Johnsburg, across the Fox River to Adams Service Station, then a left turn.

From McHenry go north on Chapel Hill Road to Adams Service Station, then a right turn.

What do you have to be thankful for?

A great deal we hope.

Because we at A&P have much.

We're thankful for God's blessings on our great country.

We're thankful for the free enterprise system that has allowed us to serve you for more than a century.

We're thankful, that again this year we'll be privileged to play a part in making Thanksgiving feasting a memorable occasion for so many.

But most of all we're thankful for you... for your patronage and loyalty.

When you come in we hope that the warmth of our service, the completeness of our selection and the dependability of our values will tell you better than words how thankful we are.
